

WALTHER FLEMMING MEDAILLE / Preisträger:

- 2004: Dr. Jan Ellenberg
European Molecular Biology Laboratory (EMBL), Heidelberg
Functional dynamics of nuclear structure during cell cycle
- 2005: Dr. Anne Spang
Friedrich-Miescher-Laboratorium der Max-Planck-Gesellschaft, Tübingen
Intracellular protein and membrane transport in yeast
- 2006: Dr. Olaf Stemmann
Max-Planck-Institut für Biochemie, Martinsried
Sister chromatid separation in vertebrates: Lessons from biochemical studies on cell-free extracts
- 2007: Dr. Thomas U. Mayer
Max-Planck-Institute für Biochemie, Martinsried
XErp1, a novel APC/C inhibitor that puts the meiotic cell cycle on hold
- 2008: Dr. Thorsten Hoppe
Universität Hamburg, ZMBH
Protein degradation in muscle development
- 2009: Dr. Holger Gerhardt
London Research Institute, Cancer Research UK
Angiogenesis – a team effort coordinated by Notch
- 2010: Dr. Florian Bassermann
Technische Universität München
The role of SCF and APC/C ubiquitin ligases in cell cycle control and DNA damage response
